Baker Publishing Group to Release New Bible Translation with Messianic Jewish Family Bible Society

The Tree of Life version, translated by both Christian and Messianic Jewish scholars, releases this May

“The Tree of Life Version is a miracle in motion” --Jack Hayford

Before there were Christians, there was a Jewish line; a chosen people from which the messiah would come. It is Judaism that birthed Christianity, not as a new religion, but as the fulfillment of a promise. Most Bible translations have pulled Christianity from its roots, but Holy Scriptures: Tree of Life Version reunites Christianity with its parentage and recovers the authentic context of the Bible and the Christian faith. Thirty-two Messianic Jewish and Christian PhD Scholars of the Messianic Jewish Family Bible Society (MJFB) have collaborated over the course of 7 years to present the first authoritative Jewish Holy Scriptures to include the New Testament. The Tree of Life Version (TLV) will bring the rich Hebrew roots of Christianity into the homes of both Jews and Gentiles.

This completely new translation restores the Tanakh (Jewish) order of books of the Old Testament, Hebrew transliterations such as shalom, shofar and Shabbat, and a Jewish worldview of the original texts. It also uses the Jewish name of the Messiah, Yeshua, and shows reverence for the four-letter unspoken name of God. The TLV is abundant with the culture of Israel and its impact on the Bible, but does not lack for a passion and love of Jesus Christ.

The TLV offers more than scripture; it provides tools to help families celebrate the Hebrew beginnings of the Christian faith:

- Thousands of Messianic Prophecy Footnotes
- Shabbat Family Prayers and Service Liturgies
- Original and Modern Day Maps of Israel

The TLV shows that “the grafted and the chosen” are more united than divided. “I realize now that the most important heritage we share – as both Jews and Christians – is a deep and abiding love for the God of Israel,” says Daniah Greenberg, CEO of MJFB. The TLV will bring God’s family back together again, helping Jewish people come to know Jesus and Jesus people come to know Jews.

Daniah Greenberg is the President and spokesperson for the Messianic Jewish Family Bible Project (MJFB). Daniah, a wayward catholic, came to faith after a single visit to a Baptist Church. She graduated with a degree in Communications and married a “nice Jewish boy” named Mark Greenberg in 1989. They joined Congregation Shema Yisrael and in 1994, the Greenberg’s were commissioned to begin Messianic services in Syracuse, New York where they founded New Beth Israel Messianic Jewish Synagogue and shared Messiah there for 14 years. In 2005, Daniah began writing the popular Golden Apples Messianic Jewish Children’s Curriculum currently used in over 80 Messianic congregations in America. This led her to Messianic synagogues and conferences with her message of “a Messianic Family Bible” for the next generation of Messianic Youth in America.
